Commentaries on Genesis chapter one commonly interpret Genesis 1:14-17 as refuting the ancient view that the sun and moon were gods, had powers, and were to be worshiped They note that Genesis chapter one does not use the names of these gods, but rather represents the sun and moon as lights created by the God of the Bible and

The Bible and Socialism - Bible Banner

Another reason to use the Bible in this refutation is to answer those who misuse the Bible in their effort to defend socialism and communism Given the By creating man in His own image (Genesis 1:26-27), God created man with perfect free-agency - the power to choose Religious people often speak of free "moral" agency, but "moral

Chapter 2

Chapter 2 Six days? Really? • Are the days of creation ordinary days? • Could they be long periods of time? • Why six days? Is Genesis poetry? • Does the length of the days really affect the Gospel? • How can there be 'days' without the sun on the first three days? • Does Genesis 2 contradict Genesis 1?
